An Effective Mule Invigorator.

While traveling in Virginia some time ago with a doctor we came upon an old colored man who was standing by a mule who was hitched to an old two-wheeled wagon.

"Dis mule am balked, boss," said the old man, "an' I'll gib a dollah to de man what can start 'im."

"I'll do it for less than that, Uncle." said the doctor.

He took his ease from the carriage and selected a small syringe, which he filled with morphia. He went to the side of the mule and quickly inserting the svringe in his side pushed the contents into the animal.

The mule reared upon his hind legs and giving an astonished bray started down the road at break-neck speed.

The aged colored man gave a look of astonishment at the doctor, and with a loud "Whos!" started after the mule. In the course of ten minutes we came up to the old man standing in the road waiting for us. The male was nowhere to be seen. "Say, boss," said the darkey, "how put in dat mule?" "Oh, ten cents will do," laughingly replied the doctor. "Well, boss, here is twenty cents. Squirt some of dat stuff 'n me. I'se got ter ketch dat ar' mule."

gent gentleman from San Luis Obispo, Cal., is in the city en route home from Sonora, where he has been for the past several months. He brings news that in the district of Sahuaripa. a few days since, the Apaches killed two Mexicans engaged in collecting proud of it, and scornfully refuses to mescal. The dead and mutilated bodies were discovered by vaqueros, who also found the body of a third man much decomposed, who, together with his horse, had been killed some time previously. Four Indians only have been seen, but the force was believed to be much larger, as the trail of the hostiles up Bacanora canyon was quite large. This sudden appearance of the Apaches has thrown that entire country into a violent state of alarm, as the people thereabouts had fancied themselves secure from further depredations. Ranches had been taken up, mines opened, and the country wore a general air of thrift and prosperity, but it will now be again brought to a standstill. The killing was done at a place called Soyopa, about 150 miles southeast of Hermosillo, Undoubtedly these Indians are the same little band of roving devils who succeeded in getting away when Geronimo and Natchez surrendered,-Tucson Citizen.

An Editor's Experience.

Major Sidney Herbert, a weilknown journalist in agricultural circles writes April 18, 1889: Some five vears ago I wrote a letter stating that Swift's Specific had cured me of severe rheumatism. Since that time I have had no return of the rheumatic trouble, though frequently exposed to the influence that produced former attacks. Several of my friends had a similar experience and are firm in their conviction that S. S. S. brought a permanent cure. The searching power of this medicine is shown in the fact that it developed a scrofulous taint that was conspicuous in my blood over thirty years ago and has removed the last trace of it. I have also tested S. S. S. as a tonic after a severe attack of malarial fever which kept me in bed for three months, and am convinced that its curative and strengthening properties ensured my recovery from that illness, as I was in
